 - (e) 3 Side Seal Pouch
2. Shrink Sleeves

Our Products and Branding Solution

Standup pouches

Stand-up pouches are one of the most common forms of flexible pouches on the current market, and many people are more familiar with them. However, they might not be the ideal option for your packaging requirements.

Our Products and Branding Solution

Flat Bottom pouches

They are a great choice for businesses that want their products to stand out in a sea of similar products. This is because they have five printable panels on which brands can display their product details, directions of use, and other branding elements.

They can be customized with various designs, colors, and finishes, allowing brands to interact with their consumers through professional, commercial branding assets.

Our Products and Branding Solution

Quad Seal pouches

The quad pouch is suitable for heavy products because of the four vertical seals. It also a sustainable option. This kind of packaging can reduce waste effectively by achieving a lower packaging product ration. The product is an almost perfect fit for the packaging.

Our Products and Branding Solution

3 sides seal pouches

A 3 side-seal pouch means that the three sides of the pouches are sealed. One side of the pouch is left open for filling the products. Finally, the fourth side will be sealed by a specific machine.

You can choose 3 side seal pouches for different applications, such as bread, frozen food, meats. And snacks.

Our Products and Branding Solution

Shrink Sleeves

Versatile labels that conform to the shape of the container when heat is applied, offering 360-degree branding opportunities.

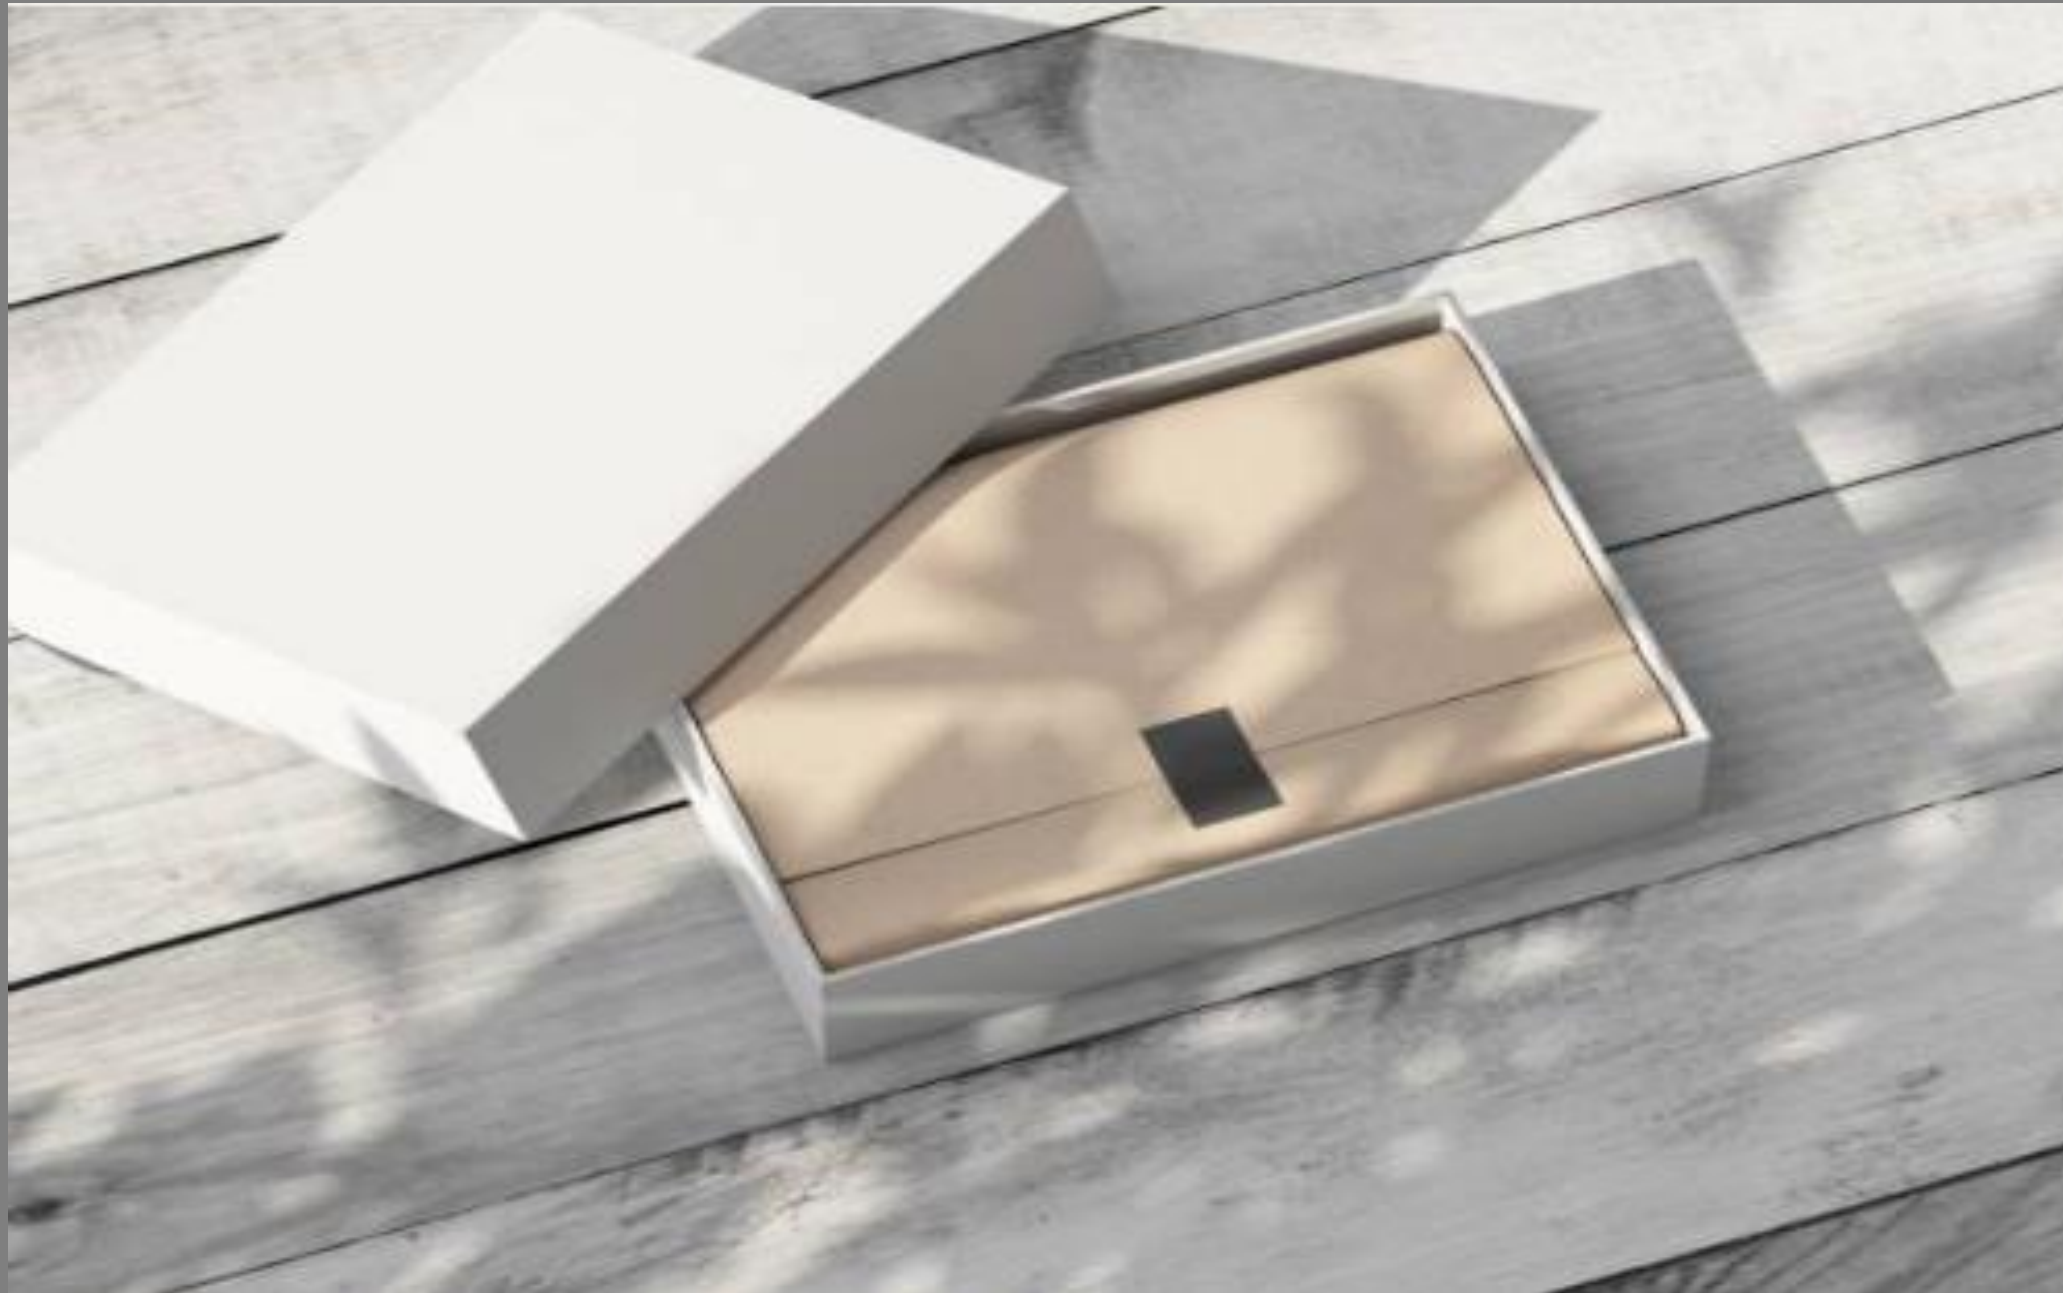

Our Products and Branding Solution

Sustainable pouches

Food products can reach maximum shelf life, helping to reduce food waste, and customers are attracted to finely printed and eye-catching graphics now widely available on commonly used laminations that can be configured in hundreds of shapes and sizes. However, it is undeniable that flexible packaging also produces waste. Ongoing research is being done to develop materials that are bio-degradable, compostable, reusable, and more.

High-Quality Paper Boxes

K Mean Black Pack offers a diverse range of high-quality paper boxes, ensuring that products are not only securely packaged but also presented beautifully. Our offerings include mono cartons, corrugated cartons, rigid boxes, and carry bags, catering to various packaging needs. Our collection features a variety of boxes and cartons, including mono cartons, corrugated cartons in multiple ply options, and high-quality rigid boxes for gifts. Each type is crafted to ensure product protection and an attractive presentation.

Our Products and Branding Solution

Mono Cartons

Mono cartons are versatile packaging solutions made from a single board, offering fast assembly and an appealing look. Ideal for retail products, they effectively showcase items while providing durability and protection during transit.

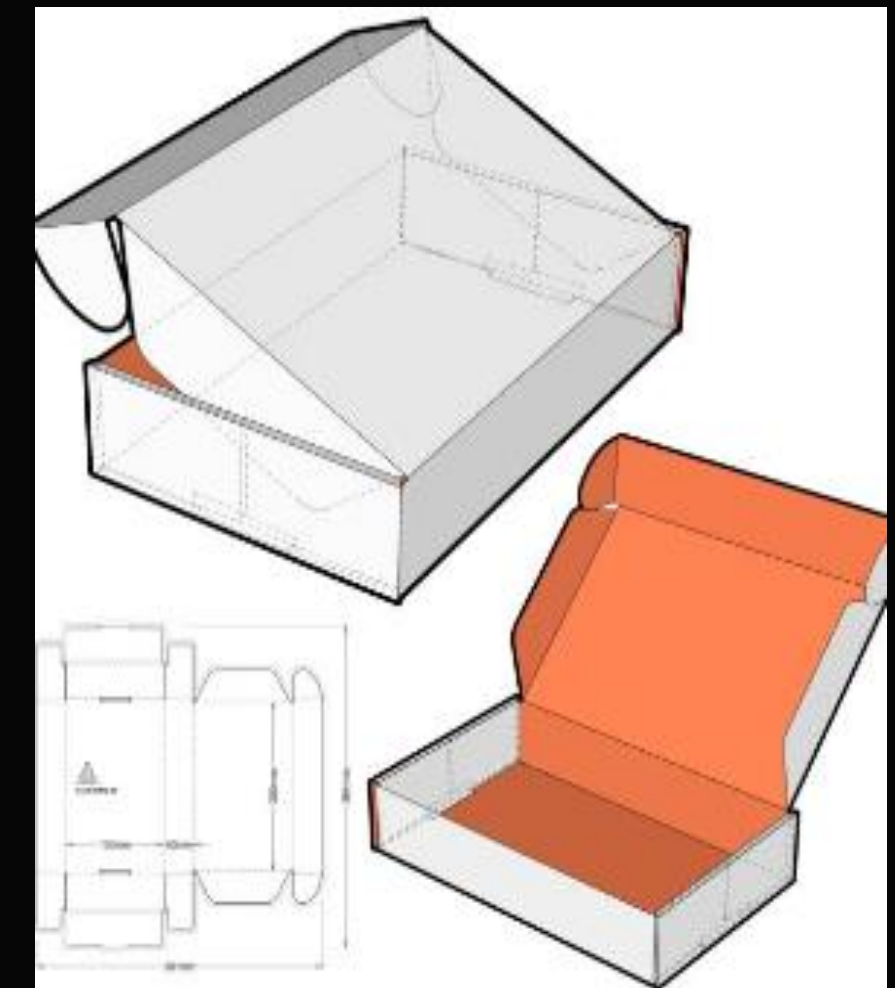

Our Products and Branding Solution

Corrugated Cartons

Corrugated cartons are robust and lightweight, available in 3Ply, 5Ply, and 7Ply options. They are designed to safely transport heavier items, providing excellent protection against impact, moisture, and physical stress during shipping.

Our Products and Branding Solution

Rigid (Gift) Boxes

Rigid boxes offer an upscale packaging option characterized by their solid structure and luxurious appearance. These boxes are perfect for high-end products, enhancing the unboxing experience and increasing customer satisfaction.

Our Products and Branding Solution

Carry Bags

Our carry bags are designed for convenience and style, made from durable paper materials. They serve as an effective packaging solution for retail, ensuring easy transport for customers while enhancing brand visibility.
